Dear Admissions Committee,

I am writing to recommend Enqiang Chen for admission to your graduate program in Computer Science and related fields. I got to know Enqiang through his participation in data mining-related research and development projects and coursework at Yunnan University. He impressed me with his technical foundation and his attitude toward research work.

Enqiang's work involved literature reading, algorithm implementation, and system development. He participated in research on spatial co-location pattern mining and hotspot trajectory sequential pattern mining, where he was mainly responsible for experimental analysis and prototype implementation. During this process, he showed that he could quickly understand research ideas and apply them to practical tasks. He was also willing to spend time thinking about details in both experiments and system design.

His programming and engineering skills were also strong. Enqiang was able to choose suitable tools and frameworks according to different development needs. During project implementation, he showed clear programming logic and good problem-solving ability. When encountering unfamiliar technical issues, he was usually able to adjust quickly and continue pushing the work forward.

In our discussions, Enqiang communicated his ideas clearly and approached problems with initiative. He was willing to explore different solutions when facing technical difficulties and maintained a careful working style throughout the projects. Enqiang's research interest and development experience make him well prepared for graduate study. I am confident he will contribute meaningfully to your program. Please feel free to contact me if you require any additional information.

Sincerely,

Hao Wu,
